This Portable Play Tunnel would make an excellent addition to a classroom or daycare facility. Designed for those aged 6 to 23 months, this item makes for a fantastic exploration space for children just beginning to crawl or kiddos who've recently learned how to walk. The tunnels are light enough for an adult to lift and move while still being heavy enough to prevent accidental shifting during play by the little occupants inside. This allows grownups to more easily change the location of the tunnel to keep playtime continually engaging for the kids. Just imagine the configuration possibilities if you have two (or more) and start getting inventive with where they're placed and what other play pieces are located around them. The tunnel also feature viewing holes along the sides, so little ones can be seen at a glance to make sure everyone is still playing safely. This 30" Play Tunnel is built of durable rotationally molded plastic.
