With Athena's Armor, kids will be able to take their playground experience to the next level. This unique structure features one single and one double slide, making it a great option for children especially fond of slides. Also featured on Athena's Armor are a ship's wheel and a vertical climbing wall, which has various inlets and outcroppings so children can maintain traction while climbing. As always, safety is a point of emphasis for Athena's Armor, which features several safety bars and railings to prevent accidental falling. Additionally, an enclosed, high-ceiling tunnel connects either end of this structure, and doubles as an intuitive, fun way for kids to get some shade on a hot day, or simply to hang out with each other in an enclosed space. However kids choose to play on Athena's Armor, they'll surely relish the opportunity to get out on the playground and get active with their friends.
